State Normal Business School

INDIANA, PA.

Commercial Teachers' Training Course

Prepares teachers to teach Commercial Subjects in High Schools and Academies. Salaries offered are very attractive.

Trained Help Wanted

In the business world today there are no calls for the young man or young woman who "can do almost anything." The calls are for trained help, for persons who can do some one thing well. Private secretaries, stenographers, book-keepers and trained office assistants are always in demand, and they command excellent salaries. The completion of one of these courses with us means Life-Long Independence.

CHANGES IN THE NORMAL HERALD COMMITTEE

We regret to announce that school work along other lines has lost to us the services of Miss Agard. We wish to testify to the efficiency of the work done by Miss Agard and Miss Walsh.

RECEPTIONS TO THE FACULTY

At the beginning of the term, several receptions were given by Mr. Thomas Sutton and Mrs. Sutton to the members of the faculty. September 23rd the reception to the incoming members of the faculty took place and receptions to the others came later. The efficiency of the teachers, in the United States, would be increased if they had more opportunities for social intercourse, and credit is due public-spirited citizens who advance the cause of education in this way.

VALEDICTORY

HE THAT KEEPETH HIS WAY

At Washington, England, there are two old wells, which tradition calls the wishing-wells. Between these lay a stone upon which the pilgrim knelt, plunged a hand in each well while he wished for the thing he most desired. Then he was required to drink as much of the water as he could hold in the hollow of his hand.

How interesting must have been the wishes of the sojourners who knelt beside these waters of hidden power. One may have wished for an abundant harvest, another that he should find the lamb that had strayed from the flock, and the youth that he might win the lady of his heart.

To-day, the universal longing is for physical, mental and spiritual efficiency. To realize these aspirations, must one travel over land and sea to magic wells? To be efficient, must he taste of these mystic waters? Ah, no, in this day, our wishing-wells are subjective, they lie deep in the heart. Everyone has been given the power to be and to do what he may wish and the difference between the beggar and the socially and spiritually efficient man or woman lies in the way his talents have been conserved. How much the people of to-day strive after things of transient value, social position, worldly success! Could each one but put from his life all these trivialities and conserve those things that he can take with him even into eternity! Pretense and sham have no place in the divine order of things. These are but a superficial covering and sooner or later one must drop this false mantle and appear before his Judge in his own true light. A man cannot stand before the world in a truly triumphant manner until he can say "I am as the world sees me and as God knows me." Then only is the heart at rest for there is no fear of having an ugly self uncovered before the eyes of man.

Worry and discontent are among the things we can drop. They are useless and time spent, either at war with ourselves or our surroundings, is ill-spent. Discontent is man-created. The discontented man does not adapt himself to his environment, but he closes his eyes to the beauty of the common things and what a distorted view he gets! Man should first try to understand his surroundings for in that understanding only does he find peace. How sweet to think that in all that vast eternity there is not a sound of strife and contention. All is harmony.

What then of these things that we have shall we conserve for that future? The ideal life is a life of happiness, not mere pleasure but the happiness of the duty of each hour well done. Happiness does not result so much from the events of our daily life as from the way we meet and deal with these events. And he who is efficient must be steadfast in purpose and firm in action.

"He that keepeth his way." can he keep his way alone? The efficient man must receive from others and from whom but his friends! One cannot hope for perfection, even of friendship, but happy is he who can overlook the little misunderstandings and dispel the doubts that may arise. Friendship is to be conserved.

One cannot crowd into the few short years that lie between two eternities all that life gives. But to realize his aspirations, man must choose those things that will abide.

Members of the class of 1911: To-day we say farewell to the faculty and principal of Indiana. What have we gained, from the old school would we conserve for use among our new surroundings? Let us retain, first of all, the inspiration she has given us. As this dynamic force has urged us on to effort in our work here, may it also impel us still with its mighty strength until we make Indiana proud of her sons and daughters. Let us cherish the friendships we have formed, cherish them against doubt and distrust. True friendship cannot thrive upon negligence and forgetfulness; it demands self-sacrifice and love. May we be willing to give these for friendship's sake. Let us take from Indiana, the happiness she has given us. In years to come may we forget the little perplexities that annoyed us, may we preserve only the sweetest memories.

To-day ends the school life of many of us. To-day we look into familiar faces which we may not see again for many years. To-day we are leaving Indiana, but we shall still be of Indiana for, once an Indiana boy or girl, always an Indiana man or woman. Let us not think then that we are leaving all behind us, for the spirit of the old school has become a part of our spirit and from it we cannot be separated. In the name of the class of 1911, to the underclassmen, to the Faculty, to Miss Leonard and to Dr. Ament, I speak farewell.

CLARA MORGAN.

OUR NEW TEACHERS

There are changes to record in the work of the old teachers. Mr. Jack has charge of the Department of History, his assistants being Miss Collins, and Mr. Watson. Mr. James has charge of the Department of Science, and is assisted by Messrs. Allen and Waite. In the Department of Latin, there are two new teachers: Miss Bodine and Mrs. Watt. In the Department of German and French the new teachers are Miss Datton, Mr. Bowman and Miss Hunt. Mr. Smith and Mr. Gordon have two more assistants for the Department of Mathematics. These are Mr. Wiley and Mr. J. E. Smith. The new teachers in the Department of Education are Dr. Drew and Miss Wells. There are two new critic teachers in the Training School, Miss Crawford has charge of all History, Spelling and Geography teachers and Miss Brown has the Drawing teachers. A new department has been added. It is Domestic Science and Miss Pine has charge. In the Department of Music there are two new teachers, Mr. Hart and Miss Neff, and Mr. Rodkey, has taken the place of Miss Fowles as Dr. Ament's secretary, Miss Edna Kriess assists Mr. Race in the office and Miss Maria Greer assists Miss McLane in the library. Mr. Myers is in the Business Department.

A. B. SMITH.

THE TEACHERS WE HAVE LOST

How can we express our feelings when, on our return to Normal, we found so many of our faculty missing? Now that they are gone, we see their value as never before. What a help and encouragement they were! How we enjoyed the hours spent in their classes and our moments of leisure with them! But only too late we think of what we might have done in return for all they gave us. Every day as we go to classes we almost fancy that we shall see them in their rooms; but alas, on opening the door the vision is no more.

They, as well as we, are making new friends. They are giving of their best to other students. May they be happy in their new work! May they make new friends who will be as true as the ones they left at Indiana.

In thinking of the absent teachers we think first perhaps of Mr. Hickman. Although he left us last Spring term, he is still remembered. Grove City may well rejoice to have him in their school.

Then we think of Miss Weller, our able German and French teacher.

Miss Walsh who is greatly missed has a fine position in the High School of her home town.

In the Mathematic department, Miss Chesebrough has gone and has left a vacancy hard to fill.

The boys will miss their last year's coaches, Mr. Kirberger and Mr. Forman.

The history pupils, and all who knew Mr. Haeckel, are still grieving over his loss. May he enjoy his work at the University of Pennsylvania.

In our pedagogy department Miss Strong and Mr. Lesh are gone. Their many students of last year are expressing their sorrow at their departure.

Then we sorely miss our German teacher, Miss Sherill. While we are glad Cornell obtained so able a secretary for the Y. W. C. A. we cannot but wish she were here again.

The music students, especially, feel the loss of their former instructors, Miss Hanley and Mr. Park.

The Model School has one vacancy caused by the absence of Miss Konold.

Even the library is different this year, for Miss Dunlap has left.

Mr. Rodkey, former head of the commercial department, is now Dr. Ament's secretary.

Altho we grieve over the loss of these, our friends and teachers, yet we extend a hearty welcome to all new members of the faculty, hoping they may find many friends at Indiana Normal School.

MYRTLE EVEREST.

THE SENIOR RECEPTION

One of the most enjoyable affairs of Commencement time was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sutton to the Seniors of '11. It was held at their beautiful residence on South Sixth Street June 23, 1911.

The large porch was decorated with Japanese lanterns and bowls of dark red roses. In the house the decorations were carried out in the class colors, orange and black. The dining room especially was very effectively decorated in this color combination.

A great deal of amusement was derived from two large mirrors placed in the parlor, which gave back distorted images which were so ridiculous that a laughing crowd was to be found in front of them all evening. The fishing pond also afforded a great deal of merriment. Each one in turn, threw in his line and drew out some souvenir of the occasion, in orange and black. Some drew toy musical instruments with which they gave impromptu concerts.

A most delicious collation was served and even in this the color scheme of orange and black was successfully carried out. Small favors containing tissue paper caps were passed to all and the caps were worn for the remainder of the evening.

Alltogether, it was a most delightful occasion and one which will not be soon forgotten by the class of 1911.

FOOTBALL RESUME

The football team that will represent Indiana Normal for this season is being gradually developed into winning form. Although the season is as yet too young to pass any judgment upon the outcome, the prospects for a successful team are very bright. On account of the late arrival of good material, the situation at the beginning appeared somewhat gloomy. But as time progressed the return of the old men brightened the outlook considerably. As is usually the case, the team is, so far, composed of a few of last year's veterans and new men. Of the old veterans, Gailey at left end, Blair at left tackle, Cannon at centre, and Shields at right tackle form the backbone of the line. These men are powerful and very aggressive. In the backfield Captain Smith is the only veteran and, in past, the mainstay of the whole team. Much will be heard of him during the remainder of the season. Of the new material Cochran, at left guard, Margiotti at right guard and Wolford at right end complete the line positions while Carmalt, Wilson and White form the backfield with Captain Smith. White a new man, is a find and will develop into a star. Brown, Morrow, Swan, Peeler, and Deeds are of first class calibre, acting as substitutes.

The scrub team should not be overlooked. There are several men who, with faithful work and consistent training, should easily make the Varsity next season.

 DEATHS

Charles Royden Steetle, a well remembered student at Indiana, died at the Indiana Hospital Monday evening, March 20, of typhoid fever. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Steetle, of South Tenth Street, and was a young man of unusual promise and much ability. Royden was approaching his twenty-fourth birthday. Early in life he became a member of the Lutheran Church, and was attentive and active in his church duties. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Paul and Ross, and one sister, Helen, to whom the sympathy of the school and the entire community was extended.

Miss Flossie Ethel Williams, one of the most popular and beloved of our younger girls, died of typhoid fever at her home on Wayne Avenue, on Sunday, March 26th. Flossie had a singular power of winning friends by whom, as well as by those who simply knew her at school, she is deeply mourned. She was an only child. About a month later her mother died with the same disease, leaving the father and husband utterly desolate and the beautiful home which mother and daughter adorned, empty.

Alumni Notes

WEDDINGS

Married, on Wednesday the 21st of June, 1911, at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Anna M. Fulton, Greensburg, Pa., Belle Totten Fulton, '02, to Mr. William Clark Kissick. The residence of Mr and Mrs. Kissick will be at Gibsonia, Pa.

Fannie Blanche Travis, '05, was married on Wednesday, June 21st, at the home of her parents in Blairsville, Pennsylvania, to Mr. Homer P. Williams.

Nora Hay, '06, was married at the home of her parents at Glenfield, Pa., to Mr. James McKirdy, on the sixth of June, 1911. The home of Mr. and Mrs. McKirdy will be at 223 College Street, Carlisle, Pa.

Dr. Harry B. Neal and Miss Roxy Widdowson, both of Indiana, were married at the home of the bride on Tuesday evening, June 20, at eight o'clock, in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends. Reverend Lawson Campbell, pastor of the Christian church officiated. Two Normal girls, Miss Edyth B. Withington, of Marietta, Ohio, and Miss Mary C. Miller, of Johnstown, were attendants of the bride. Dr. Hal Speedy, '07, was best man.

Dr. Neal is a successful young physician of Indiana and a graduate of the Normal School in the class of '01. Miss Widdowson is a graduate of our Conservatory of Music, having been a member of the class of 1910.

Mr. James Dick Wilson, a member of our Board of Trustees, and Miss Clara M. Wagner, '05, of Perrysville Avenue, Pittsburgh, were married on Thursday, June first, at the home of the bride's parents at 12.30 P. M.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Barr, of Baltimore, Md., assisted by the Rev. W. I. Wishart, pastor of the Eighth United Presbyterian Church, North Side, Pittsburg. The ceremony took place before a bay window in the drawing room, which was banked with cibodium ferns and palms. The aisle for the bridal party was marked with brass standards filled with yellow marguerites. The bride's father gave her away and she wore a gown of lace over white satin and a veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms. She carried white roses and wore the bridegroom's gift, a diamond pin. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Della M. Wagner, who was gowned in pale blue satin. Her flowers were pink roses. The best man was James Blair Sutton, of this place. Miss Belle Hanna played the wedding march. Following the reception a breakfast was served. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and foliage.

A wedding which was of great interest to Indiana people took place at the Fort Pitt Hotel on April 12, when Miss Janet McIntosh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel F. McIntosh, of Sharpsburg, was united in marriage to Charles Ross Springer, of McDonald, Pa. Both parties are well known in Indiana, Miss McIntosh being a graduate of the Normal School, class of '09, and Mr. Springer having attended Kiski, at Saltsburg, for several years. Mr. Springer is well and popularly known in Indiana, not only for his ability as an athlete but as a general good fellow, while Miss McIntosh has hosts of friends here who wish her well.

The bridal party included Miss Margaret T. Wilson of Indiana, as maid of honor, Mrs. George W. Kenneday of Buffalo, New York, matron of honor. Miss Sevelia C. McIntosh, sister of the bride, Misses Mary and Lucille Smith of Washington, D. C., Miss Edna Pickels of Pittsburgh and Miss Margaret Glass of Oakmont were bridesmaids. James Mark, a former classmate of Mr. Springer at W. and J. was best man. J. Herman Watson was one of the ushers. The Rev. D. R. Montgomery of Sharpsburg First Presbyterian Church read the service at 7.30 o'clock. A reception and wedding dinner followed. Dinner was served in the Dutch room, covers being laid for twenty at the bride's table. Three little mounds of pink roses and spirea formed the centerpiece and the place cards were simple water color booklets. At the conclusion of an Eastern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Springer took up their residence at McDonald, Pennsylvania.

Many pleasant social affairs in honor of the bride preceded the wedding. Miss Edna Pickels gave a box party at the Alvin Theater on the Wednesday afternoon preceding the wedding. On Thursday afternoon Miss Margaret Glass entertained the girls of the bridal party at her home. On the following afternoon Mrs. Kenneday entertained the bridal party at a luncheon at McCreery's, and on Saturday Miss Margaret Wilson gave a luncheon at McCreery's followed by a theater party at the Nixon. Dr. and Mrs. McIntosh gave the rehearsal dinner at the Fort Pitt Hotel the Tuesday preceding the wedding.

Miss Gertrude Loudon, '04, was married at Altoona on Saturday the fifth of August to Mr. Roy Smelker Ovelman. They will reside at 2111 West Chestnut Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Miss Nelle Thorpe Pearce, '05, was married at the home of her mother in San Antonio, Texas, to the Reverend John Calvin Smith on Wednesday the thirtieth day of August. Reverend Mr. Smith is minister in charge of the Presbyterian Church in New Athens, where will be the residence of the newly married couple.

Miss Marie F. Glemser, '01, was married at the home of her parents in Pittsburgh on the twenty-seventh day of July to Mr. Christian Bitner.

A card from Dr. and Mrs. William S. Owens of San Jose, California, announces the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, on the twenty-first of September, to Mr. John Carl Gouger. The friends of the family will recall that Elizabeth has been in Washington for the last three years as private secretary to Congressman Hays of California. But she wisely preferred a home to a position and in a home at 440 South Tenth Street, San Jose, California, is where her Normal friends who travel Pacific-wise will find her.

Helen E. Cunningham, '09, was recently married at the residence of her father, Attorney Samuel Cunningham, on Wayne Avenue, to Roger Keys McGee, of Pittsburg. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Doctor Crawford in the presence of a few close relatives of the family. Mr. and Mrs. McGee reside in Pittsburg, where McGee has a position in the engineering department of Jones-Laughlin Co.

The Faculty was not without its interesting happenings during the summer vacation. Our Registrar, Professor Ernest B. Race, was married Wednesday, August 9th, to Miss Agnes Jane Campbell of Indiana, Pa. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, the service being read by the Rev. A. J. Furman, of Homer City, a great uncle of the bride, in the presence of the immediate members of the bride's family. Mrs. Race was a graduate of the regular course of the Indiana State Normal School in the class of 1908, and of the Supervisor's course in Music in 1911. She was a teacher in the McDonald, Pa., schools in 1909 and in the Indiana schools in 1910. Prof. Race is a graduate of the Granville, New York, High School, in the class of 1902, and the Poultney Seminary Business School, Poultney, Vt., 1906. He taught in the same school in 1906 and 1907 and was superintendent of the Summer Business School at Waterleight, New York, in 1907. He came to Indiana in the fall of 1907 and was head of the Commercial Department of the school for several years, resigning that department to accept the position of Registrar. Mr. and Mrs. Race are residing in one of the School Cottages.

The Indiana friends of Miss Helen Elizabeth Hall, one of our teachers in 1910, will be interested to read of her marriage, which took place at the Church of the Holy Trinity, West Chester, Pennsylvania, September 29th. Mr. Wallace Roger Lee, foreign representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, is the fortunate man. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee is at 4110 Baltimore Avenue, Philadelphia, where they need not be surprised to see quite often Mrs. Lee's Normal friends.

Miss Florence Schaub, '08, was married on September 9th, to Mr William Allen Ray. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray will be at 7720 Waverly Avenue, Pittsburg.

Honorable Alvin Sherbine, '98, a prominent attorney of Johnstown, was married to Miss Nevada Emerick of Somerset County. The wedding took place in Columbus, Tuesday the 18th of April, and was a surprise to the many friends of Mr. Sherbine.

Mr. Sherbine has been practicing law since '05. He was a member of the State Legislature in 1907 and 1908, and has been otherwise honored by his fellow citizens.

He was a member of our Senior Class in 1898, and when the Spanish American war broke out enlisted in Company F., 5th Regiment, and served until the Company was mustered out. There were five boys still on the field on Commencement day, Alvin Sherbine, John D. Wilson, Wm. F. Elkin, Joseph A. Blakely and Oram C. Lytle, and five vacant chairs were placed on the front of the platform, covered by the "stars and stripes." Mr. Sherbine was a messmate of the boy of beloved memory, Joe Blakely, who died at Chicamauga.

Mary Campbell, '03, was married at the home of her parents in Clarion on June 28th, to Mr. Wayne Lowell McNutt. Clarion is to be the residence of Mr. and Mrs. McNutt.

Ada Carson Gibson, '95, was married to Mr. Robert Raymond McGeorge on Tuesday, June 27th, 1911, at Bellevue, Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. McGeorge will be at home after August first at New Galilee, Pa.

On Wednesday, June 14th, a lovely day was spent by the relatives and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wigton at their farm home, "Cool Run," in Spruce Creek Valley, when their daughter, Anna W., '05, was married to Dr. Harry C. Wilson, of Warriors Mark.

The wedding party came down stairs to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, assembling on the porch. Doctor Wilson and Robert Wigton came first, followed by the eight bridesmaids. The house decorations were mountain laurel, with Virginia creeper festoons, and the maids wore white and carried armfuls of laurel. Elizabeth Wigton was maid of honor. The bride was attended by her father. The Episcopal ceremony was used by the Reverend R. M. Campbell. After congratulations, a real feast was served to the hundred and thirty guests.

NOTES OF TWENTY-FIVE YEAR CLASS

Jessie Macrum Matthews, '86, makes her home at Wood's Holl, Massachusetts. Her husband being Professor of Physiological Chemistry at the University of Chicago, she says she "must spend several months of each year in that benighted city. Her life has been a long series of interesting travels and experiences. She and Professor Matthews are spending this summer in Europe with their daughter, Norene.

Louise S. Fleming, '86, is now at home in New York City and she sends a warm greeting to all who knew her. She says she loves to recall the old scenes and associations, and in a number of instances has been able to remember people and circumstances connected with her school life at Indiana, where the others have quite forgotten even her existence. We recall her sweet and gentle presence as we read her words, with great pleasure.

Mrs. Agnes Morrow-Scandrett, '86, has just returned home from a long residence abroad. This year her oldest son graduated from Amherst College.

Mrs. Anna Laughry-Inler, '86, was present at the reunion of her class. She is the same good earnest girl whom we knew, and we rejoiced to take her by the hand.

Mrs. Emma Leard-Shields, '86, now makes her home in Niedford, Oregon, but recalls herself affectionately to her school mates.

Sue G. Case, '86, that most busy girl, is further increasing her already extensive acquirements by a summer's study at the University of Columbia.

Dr. Mary McKibbin-Harper, '86, finds time amid the onerous duties of her professional career to preside over a charming home in Maywood, Ill. Her husband is a prosperous lawyer of Chicago and an interesting writer for the Outlook and the World's work. During last summer and autumn they made a three month's tour in Europe, in course of which they viewed the Passion Play. and visited the most celebrated of the Art Galleries.

The Class of '86 offers its deepest sympathy to Mrs. Jennie Hamill McClure on the death of her father, to Elizabeth McFadden Gaut on the death of her husband, and to Mrs. Annie Crider Kirker on the death of her mother.

Adalene M. Elliott, '85, spends her summer vacations doing missionary work among the "poor whites" in the South.

Caroline D. Hays, '85, after two year's successful work as Dean at Blairsville College has accepted the position for another year.

Nellie Goodell, '87, is living at Berkeley, Cal., practicing the profession of nurse, and finds her work most congenial in the "Golden State."

Kit Lawrence Rush, '87, is Postmistress at Chester, W. Va. Her three boys are fine, big, sturdy fellows.

BLANCHE BARNES ANDERSON, '86

The Class of '86 celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary with its old time loyalty. The luncheon at the Fort Ptt Hotel on June 3rd. was attended by twenty-two members of the class, and the honors of the auspicious day fell evenly between Miss Leonard and the Hon. John S. Fisher. The steady flow of reminiscences and jovial badinage thruout the repast was followed by a few informal remarks from Messrs. E. Walker Smith, John S. Fisher, and H. H. Fisher, and Mesdames Ellen Crawford Clarke and Blanche A. Barnes Anderson.

The Class History as rendered by Miss Grace Hodge Craighood brought out the glorious record of all the original fifty-two, on whom there has fallen the full gamut of honors from the professions to the glories of paternity. The only moment of sorrow in the days' record was the brief and tender reference to those on whom has fallen the glories of the completed life, seven in number. Miss Leonard has promised to be with the Class of '86 when the next twenty-five years has brought another reunion, and all who have known her lasting help and hope and friendship will watch the passing of the years in the glad knowledge of that day to come.

The real school reunion of '86 at Commencement time was a season of grateful remembrances. The generous hospitality of the school, the various festivities, the glad evening with Mr. and Mrs.

Fisher, the trip around and about Indiana, all will linger with the fragrance of the flowers garnered by the way. Thirteen of the Class were able to be present, four boys and nine girls, and the crimson and straw colors shone bravely on all occasions. Long life to the "remnant," of glorious associations.

BLANCHE BARNES ANDERSON, '86.

A TRIBUTE

Miss Annie M. Hanley, who has been a member of the faculty of the Normal Conservatory of Music for the past 18 months, recently resigned her position. She will visit a sister in New York for a time, after which she will go to her home in Charleston, S. C. Miss Hanley made many friends during her stay in Indiana, and general regret is expressed at her departure. Possessed of a wonderful contralto voice and equipped with a technical knowledge gained through several years of study abroad, she is sure to rise rapidly in her chosen profession. Her Indiana friends are grieved at her leaving town, but will follow her career with expectant interest.

'91

The Class of '91 celebrated its twentieth anniversary by the presence of Annie R. Cameron, Katherine Cameron-Gearhart, Ada Ferguson-Bierer, Sue Galaher-Dowler, Jane Frances Goodell, Anna Bird Johnson, Madge Porter-Pillow, Minnie B. Russell, and John M. M. Urey.

THE TEN YEAR CLASS

After ten years of separation thirty-eight members of the "naughty ones" accepting the invitation of the trustees and faculty returned for the anniversary of our graduation, and all our happy anticipations were realized in the delightful week spent at Normal.

The festivities began on Saturday evening when Jessie Fleming of '01 entertained the class at her home on Oak Street. The home was decorated with Japanese lanterns and a happy evening was spent in recalling school days. Delicious refreshments were served after which we departed for Normal, having enjoyed a jolly time voting our Jessie a charming hostess.

The first meeting of the class since graduation was held on the front veranda on Monday evening. Meade Marshall took the chair, and Mrs. Charles Miller was appointed secretary. We had just an old time class meeting and the members of '01 know what that is. A committee was appointed to send flowers to Miss Leonard and Miss Weaver. Telegrams were sent to Dr. Waller and to Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell with love and greeting from the class. After some discussion about a suitable gift for the school a committee was appointed to consider the constructing of an entrance gate at the foot of "Lover's Lane." Another committee sent memorial letters to the families of deceased members.

The Class decided to go out for a time that afternoon; so a trolley was chartered and a jolly party started on the new car line out to Clymer. We viewed the town and refreshed ourselves at the drug store. The trip back was delightful and we sang our class song and yelled our yells. The car took us down to Mrs. Hauxhurst's where one of Mrs. Hauxhurst's old time chicken and waffle feasts was spread.

At the Alumni Banquet on Tuesday evening the "naughty ones" sat at the beautifully decorated table they had occupied during the week. Meade Marshall felicitously introduced the toast-master, M. C. Gordon. In the absence of Mr. Wilmer Wood, the class president, Miss Binnie McConaughy responded to the first toast of the evening. In her inimitable way she toasted the married ones, those who were still "struggling" and the happy ones who had ceased to struggle and closed with a most beautiful tribute to the love and loyalty of the "naughty ones."

At the commencement dinner we all joined in songs to Miss Leonard, Dr. Waller, Dr. Mitchell, Mr. Gordon, Miss Weaver, Mr. Owens and the Class of 1911.

Our only regret was that the whole class could not have shared the glorious week.

'01's

GENERAL ALUMNI NOTES

Anna May Daugherty, '06 graduated this June from Smith College

Zannibel Douthitt, Normal '96, is a member of this year's class at the State Normal School of San Diego, California.

E. L. Bowman, '03, as been spending the year in study at State College, and has also been acting as instructor in the Department of Industrial Engineering and Drawing during the Second Semester.

J. C. Reed Johnston, '93, has left the profession of teaching, in which he succeeded so well, to practice law, and announces that he has opened an office at Suite No. 1222, Park Building, for the general practice of law. We can hardly wish him better than that he succeed as well in his new profession as he did in the one he left.

Our James F. Willis '94 has broken the record in Mifflin County. He is the first County Superintendent that has ever been elected in that county for three terms in succession. There was considerable opposition to the third term idea, but Mr. Willis won out.

Through his whole official term Mr. Willis has retained his country residence in the beautiful Kishocóquillas Valley.

So also was Cregg Lewellyn, '97 again reelected in Fayette County for the third term as County Superintendent. Like Mr. Willis, he has brought up the schools under his control to such an extent as to have won the approval of the best sentiment of the County.

Professor Charles B. Robertson, for a number of years our teacher of Science, now leaves Cortland Normal School, to which he went from Indiana, and comes to the University of Pittsburg. In the University his special work will be the fitting of college graduates to teach in the secondary schools. Professor Roberston went to Cortland in the Fall of 1903. For four and one half years he was Head of the Science Department, and for the last three and one half years has been Head of the Training School. In both these positions he has achieved pronounced success. This summer he is to give a course of lectures in the Pennsylvania Chatauqua at Mt. Gretna, and in September comes to Pittsburgh. Mr. Robertson's Normal friends rejoice at the prospect of having him with us again.

Our Reverend Frank Woodward, '08, left in September for his field as a missionary in the Gilbert Islands, Pacific Ocean. He was commissioned at Pittsburg at the Arlington Avenue Congregational church, as he will be supported in part by the Pittsburg Association of Congregational churches. He left San Francisco on the twentieth on his long sea voyage on the steamship Maitai. The first stop was Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands. Thence he is to go to Sidney, Australia. From Sidney a three-week's sail takes him to the Gilbert Islands, his destination. Once in five months a vessel touches at these Islands and this is the only communication with the outside world.

For a year and six months he will be stationed on Ocean Island where is a boys' school, and where he will learn the language. After that he will take up active missionary work on the main group.

Mr. Woodward expects to be married in the near future to Miss Marion Parker Wells, a young woman of Holyoke, Mass., who is now doing missionary work in that field. The date of the wedding is contingent upon the movement of the steamships between the islands.

Miss Wells is a graduate of the Northfield Girls Seminary in the class of 1907. She spent two years as a teacher in the Ruth Hargrave Seminary at Key West, Fla. Being a Student Volunteer, she was appointed to the work in Kusaie, Caroline Islands, in the central Pacific, where she now is. Her ancestors have been missionaries for years. An uncle died in the field in which she is now at work.

Mr. Woodward's appointment is for five years, but he will scarcely return home short of six years on account of the time consumed in the sea voyage both ways. And even then he may stay longer if his place has not been filled.

Mr. Woodward was president of the Christian Association in the Normal School and always a most efficient worker. The members of the Association join with his other friends in prayer for his success and safety in his distant and dangerous work.

A recital was given during Lent by Miss Edna Gogswell, organist, assisted by several other members of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music. These recitals were thoroughly enjoyed by all those in attendance.

Senator and Mrs. John H. Fisher entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening, June 28th, the members of the class of 1886 of the Normal School of which Senator Fisher was a member, and a few other friends, who were here for Commencement. This class numbered fifty-two persons, and thirteen of them were here for the quarter-centennial reunion. A handsome and elaborate dinner was served and the company had a most delightful evening.

Already the praise of our new catalogue is beginning to reach us. Dr. Mackey, Superintendent of Schools in New Jersey, writes: "It has been a special pleasure to me to look over this very unique and attractive catalogue, and note the splendid progress the school has made and the wide range of activities in which it is engaged. I wish to most heartily congratulate you upon the catalogue, and upon upon what it represents."

Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, says; "I congratulate you upon your catalogue. It is the most brilliant of anything of the kind that I have seen."

Viola H. Simpson, '03, is a member of this year's graduating class of Allegheny College.

Mr. Cree T. Work, '92, who was for several years President of the Industrial College in Denton, Texas, has recently assumed the principalship of the Venice Union Polytechnic High School, Venice, California. Mr. Work took up the business of farming when he resigned at Denton, but just as we predicted he has felt the call of the school and is again in the place in which he belongs.

Donald McCreery, son of Senator McCreery, of Colorado, a graduate of Harvard Law School, has won special honor. There were sixty-seven applicants who took the Bar examination in Denver, July 7th and 8th, and Donald took the first place in point of grade. Those who met McCreery in Indiana a year ago unite in the prediction for him of a most successful career.

THE OPENING OF SCHOOL

It is with renewed strength and interest that the students of the Indiana State Normal School have returned to resume their studies after the rest of the summer. Some have come again to look forward to three years, others to two years, and still others to only one year in their school home. But no matter what their limit of time is at Indiana there is the constant purpose in the minds of all to put forth their whole energy and thus obtain the highest efficiency in all work.

The first duty was to register and classify. How easy this seemed compared to the first time. Now glances could be given to the long line of new, unfamiliar faces. Perhaps they wistfully longed only to be in the line of old students who knew the method of everything which seemed so strange to them. But at present they can only look forward to that day,—and the time will soon come.

The next thing was the welcome from the old students who had arrived earlier. These, in turn, would welcome others. But everywhere were many new faces. This was not only true of members of the student body but also of the faculty. It then became the duty of every one to make the strangers feel that Indiana was their home, and that they certainly would enjoy the new life.

The school term opened Tuesday, September 12, but recitations commenced Wednesday. It was at that time that the pupils, gathered in the different class rooms, met their instructors, and laid the foundation for the work which was to follow. At fifteen minutes after ten, both the Faculty and student body met in chapel for the first time. There they were sincerely welcomed to Indiana by Professor Jack.

But in spite of all the excitement of registering classifying, welcoming, and during the chapel exercises especially, there was something very important lacking. This was the absence of Doctor Ament. But when he has come again, our loss will be made good by his interesting descriptions of his travels in Europe in which all were so interested last year.

At present, eight hundred sixty-two students have registered. Judging from that and the general interest now taken by everyone, the year nineteen eleven will certainly be a prosperous one. Let us therefore be proud and make the best of the magnificent, educational opportunities afforded us here, for what we obtain in this way can never be removed.

CAROLINE S. VOGLEY.

IMPROVEMENTS

Many improvements were made in the buildings and about the campus since we left Normal in June.

A number of the girls' rooms in Sutton Hall were remodeled and made very attractive. The kitchen for the Domestic Science students is in the Main Building, and we are anxiously waiting for its completion.

The lobby of Leonard Hall was enlarged, so that there shall be no confusion in the halls during class periods. The entrance of Wilson Hall was changed by the addition of a vestibule.

There were two cement walks made; one, for the cottage girls, leading from South Campus to Railroad Avenue, and the other, for the art students, leading from the Art Rooms to the driveway.

On account of the large enrollment this fall, the number of cottages for the girls was increased to eight.

Oakland Avenue, the long street leading to town, was paved, as all of the streets of Indiana are expected to be soon.

Even the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has added to the improvements by making good crossings in the vicinity of the school.

A detailed account of the wonderful transformation in the Conservatory will be given in a later issue.
